Antiphospholipid antibodies (aPLs) were positive in 27% of cases with pSLE. And more than 90% of cases had positive aPLs at moment of pSLE diagnosis, which is why we strongly agree with international recommendations of performing aPLs screening simultaneously to pSLE diagnosis.

REFERENCES:

Disclosure of Interests: None declared